Thursday 20 May 2010 HMS President 1918

The boat is located opposite the Oxo Tower and boasts spectacular views of the river Thames, as well as some of London's most famous landmarks such as the London Eye, The South Bank Centre, The National Theatre, St Paul's Cathedral, The Tate Modern and many more!

As it was built in 1918, it holds priceless authentic character and competes with some of the most luxurious venues in and around London. The boat now spends a majority of its time being hired out for events of all varieties

The venue is a short walk (200 meters) along the Embankment from 'Temple' underground station.

Please come along and join us in the Gun room and the Aft deck for drinks and light refreshments from 18:30. With luck the weather will be nice and there will be plenty of use of the deck area with great views across the Thames. We will be supplying a buffet and later, Deserts, Coffee and Liqueurs . I have had a lot of requests asking when this event would take place over the past months so now please support us by RSVP to me andy.campbell@assima.net as soon as you can to enable the correct level of food to be ordered.

AGENDA

I am looking forward to seeing you all on the 20th may and as usual we have tried to put together an interesting and social evening.

We will have welcome drinks ready from 18:30–19:30 In the Gun Room, with access to a fabulous deck area if the weather is kind.

19:30–20:00. Andy Campbell will present some findings on skills diversity in ERP. Do your ERP skills (SAP, Oracle, Lawson, Dynamics, and others) transfer between systems? I will present my latest findings on the current state of the training and education marketplace.

20:00—Buffet

20:15– 20:45. The IITT (Institute of IT Trainers). Scott

Buckley will give a short presentation on the objectives of the Institute, the worlds longest established body for IUT Training professionals.

20:45—Coffee, Sweets and Liqueurs.

The bar will stay open and I hope you wall all stay and spend some time chatting with us and make some new friends. Paul Stevens—Assima UK, MD.
